

Name _____

What I Like About You

Gregory feels alone at school because he doesn't think the other kids like him. Later, he discovers that Ivy's been admiring his artwork all along. Explain to students that everyone has something of value to offer and that we can make each other feel better by complimenting one another and saying what we like about each other.

Brainstorm positive things students have noticed about others in the class (no specific names needed). Each student then gets a packet with everyone's name. After they finish writing, cut off the top of this page, cut the rest apart, and staple each student's set together. (Based on a lesson created by Jean Thirkettle, Peachland School)

-----

(Insert a student's name in the blank below.)

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

_____, one thing I liked about you this year is

_____

-----

